Freiburg
20. – 22.09.2013

The Time has come!

Whether in Freiburg, Florence, Nuremberg or New York – the question is the same: How can foreign nationals take part in the formation and development of their cities at the same level, i.e. with equal rights?

The answers are very diverse.

Some countries guarantee direct participation through communal voting rights; others respect the migrant's history by accepting dual citizenship, thus securing the same path of participation. Others set up advisory councils and migrant representatives which are able to influence policies.

What kind of experience do migrants have with the various models and how can equal political participation be best achieved?

We invite you to Freiburg for an exchange of ideas and hope to enrich them with experience from New York and the women's rights movement. You can witness the 100% Model, campaigning for equal voting rights on election Sunday in Freiburg.
